Kailua-Kona

Hawaii

Located on the breathtaking Kona Coast, Kailua Kona is a lively village of shops and galleries where the warm aloha spirit is a way of life. King Kamehameha, the man who united the Hawaiian islands, loved the area so much that it was not only his summer getaway spot, but also where he lived out the later part of his life. The history is well preserved at sites like Hulihee Palace and Mokuaikaua Church.

Another place of interest is Kealahou Bay, where Captain James Cook first landed on the Big Island. Now it's a marine sanctuary and snorkeling haven, renowned for tranquil waters, a vast coral reef, and teeming aquatic life. Of course, a trip to the region should include a freshly brewed cup of Kona coffee. Take a tour of one of the hundreds of coffee farms in the area to witness how this superb product is nurtured from soil to sip.

Top Tours

1) Sand & Sea: Captain Cook Kayak & Snorkel

Experience what is arguably some of the best snorkeling in all the Hawaiian islands in Kealahou Bay. Located in a pristine Marine Life Conservation District you will paddle a tandem kayak and land at historic Kealahou Bay State Historic Park. No other vessels can land except state permitted, eco-friendly, human powered vessels. Walk the path of Hawaiian royalty and see where world famous circumnavigator James Cook first discovered the Hawaiian culture and people. You will be fitted for snorkel equipment then enter the clear waters near Captain Cook Monument, erected in honor of the great explorer and British captain. Total paddling time is approximately one hour.

2) Adventure: Kohala Waterfalls Adventure

Treat yourself to a swim under a private waterfall. Visit the fertile and abundant heart of Kohala and explore its rich natural and cultural heritage. After a narrative drive to the remote north end of the island, it's a short off-road adventure to the trailhead in a rugged Pinzgauer. Along with an abundance of waterfalls, the 1.5-mile trail has three bridges, two idyllic streams, traditional Hawaiian taro terraces and irrigation flumes. Here's your chance to lose yourself in a cool mountain stream with cascading waterfalls overhead or simply relax trailside. A deli lunch is included.

3) Sightseeing: Captain Zodiac Raft, Dolphin & Snorkel Adventure

Exploring the Big Island's Kona coast on a 24-foot RIB is the experience of a lifetime. Snorkel in the crystal clear waters of Kealahou Bay Marine Preserve, site of the Captain Cook monument. These highly maneuverable military Zodiacs can get you close up to the lava flows, sea caves, and blow holes of this rugged coastline. Keep a sharp eye, for you will see and encounter pods of Hawaiian spinner dolphins, sea turtles, and seasonal humpback whales. Your guides will relate stories of Hawaiian history and culture, island geology, and many marine species you will encounter. Light snacks and juices will be provided and all equipment and instruction are included.
